PhDNEd Holds Research Colloquium

Contributed by Carissa Juliana R. De Luzuriaga-Balaria, RN, MAN, LPT

On 16 December 2017, Advanced Nursing Research Professor, Dr. Jerome Cleofas, held a research colloquium with his 50 PhDNEd (Doctor of Philosophy in Nursing Education) students.

Dr. Marichen Dychangco, Vice President for Academic Services, explained the importance of research in the field of Nursing Leadership, Nursing Education, and Nursing Practice and emphasized that doctorate studies should be aimed at helping the Nursing profession. Dr. Cleofas explained that this exercise will help the nursing professionals in their career, providing a better understanding of the importance of research.

The class was divided into two groups. The first group had their pre-title defense in the Nursing Arts Lab and the second group in the 4th Floor Demo Room. Adding more value to the colloquium, the panel of experts invited by the first group were Dr. Naressia Ballena, Dr. Jerome Cleofas, Dr. Marichen Dychangco, and Dr. Gerardo Guiuan. Meanwhile, the second group was led by a panel of experts, Dr. Jean Dela Cruz, Dr. Lily Famadico, Dr. Jennifer Olivar, and Dr. Portia Vitug.

The colloquium was a success given that most of the proposed titles were approved while a few were suggested to have more nursing education specific titles. As a learning experience, the colloquium was an activity that provided the students more appreciation for research.
