Meeting ID: 944 8213 0082 Passcode: QRTEAMS

As you know, our Zoom account can only accommodate 100 participants, hence the Non-Academic Personnel and Academic Non-Teaching Staff who will be on campus shall gather in the Founders' and Levesville Halls for the meeting.

Also, all members of the management team are invited to join the training on MS Teams in the afternoon from 2:30 to 5:00 pm. Please wait for further instructions on this.

From the Music Therapy Program

Ms. Solinda Bautista joined the College of Music and the Performing Arts faculty last semester. She completed the MAM-Music Therapy graduate program in 2017. The following is her sharing:

Good news.

This week gives us a precious opportunity to reach out to the medical and allied health community about music therapy where I have been invited to do three online interactive webinars, with participants ranging from 50 to 700.

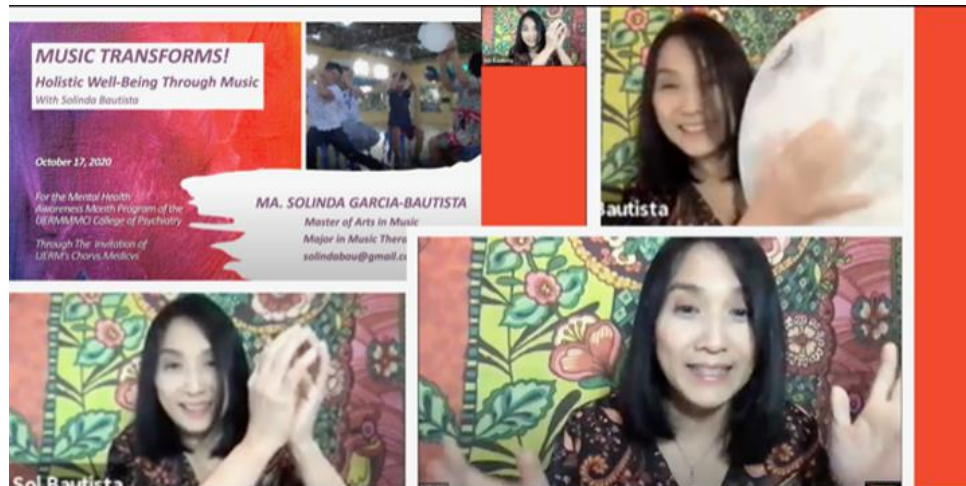

[Just like in 25 previous speaking engagements/workshops since I became a music therapist, I always part with a slide promoting SPU Manila's Music Therapy offering. Sr. Anunciata and Annette were aware of that, and I share a sample picture below.]

1. For UP PGH's "Rehab, Set, Go!" 20th Post-Graduate Course

MUSIC TRANSFORMS!

Holistic Well-Being Through Music: An Interactive Webinar with Solinda Bautista

- 700+ doctors, nurses, PTs, OTs, STs from UP Manila signed up (synchronously and asynchronously)
- Oct. 24 Saturday morning

2. For DEMENTIA SOCIETY PHILIPPINES

COLLABORATIVE ALLIED PERSPECTIVE IN DEMENTIA CARE:
Helping the Older Adults Adapt to the New Normal

- 600+ medical and allied health practitioners signed up
- A collaborative session - PT, OT, SLP + MT
- Oct. 24 Saturday afternoon

3. UERMMMC Department of Psychiatry's Mental Health Awareness Month

MUSIC TRANSFORMS!

Holistic Well-Being Through Music: An Interactive Webinar with Solinda Bautista

- ~50 doctors and medical students attended
- Oct. 17 Saturday evening

Add-on News to the World Congress of Music Therapy 2020.

Apart from presenting my research at the triennial WCMT, I had the privilege of that research being included in the World Federation for Music Therapy "Music Therapy Today" online journal in August. "Getting into the Groove with a Social Thinking Mindset for Autism."

WFMT's MUSIC THERAPY TODAY online journal
 Volume 16, No. 1 pages 282-283.

Sr. Evangeline writes to Sol:

Congratulations, Sol! I'm so proud of you! The beginnings of the MT program are definitely very challenging especially with the untimely demise of Ms. Annette. But with the unwavering leadership of Sr. Anunciata and the other lay managers in the CMPA and with dedicated alumni and faculty like you, we have much hope that Music Therapy will flourish in the Philippines and it will always be our great pride to claim that we are the pioneer in this field.

From the SPC Vocations Philippine Province

The SPC Vocations Philippine Province is the evangelizing and vocation animation hub of the Sisters of St. Paul of Chartres (SPC) Philippine Province committed to nurture in young people the desire to know Christ, respond to His call, and share in His mission.

It is inviting young women who may be called to become an SPC Sister to a life direction recollection.

What are the common stereotypes about Sisters?

How can one listen to God's call?

Do you always have a religious calling or the desire to become a Sister came as a surprise?

Get to know the answers to these questions and more!
