Utilization of Faculty Research & Creative Works in Teaching, Student Services and Community Extension

Research is one of the critical pillars of higher education since teaching, learning, and decisions must be anchored on tangible data. Conduct of research must lead to utilization of findings, as the results of these studies may lead to decisions that can enhance the academic environment which can improve services to personnel, students, and other stakeholders. (Changiz, T., Yousefy, A., & Fakhari, M. 2020)

This RPQa News shares the utilization of completed and/or published faculty research studies and creative works for SY 2024-2025.
